COACHING HIGH
PERFORMERS TO REACH THEIR GREATEST POTENTIAL

REALIZE YOUR POTENTIAL

Our high-performing clients are facing a challenge or transition, or are pursuing higher levels of results in their professional and personal lives. Either way, our unique approach reveals the unconscious patterns that impede their desired progress and success.

Velocity Leadership Consulting uses scientifically proven techniques and business psychology coaching models that reveal unconscious patterns that block achievement. We coach our clients through systematically clearing unconscious barriers — creating faster, higher-level, more sustainable results than traditional coaching programs deliver.

Through our coaching, companies can retain key executives and ensure that high performers deliver required leadership skills while achieving greater happiness and personal satisfaction. Executives can experience a new way to develop leadership skills, with velocity and ease.

CUSTOM COACHING PROGRAMS

Recognizing that no two companies or coaching clients are the same, we customize coaching engagements to best meet our client's goals. Executives and managers typically engage in private one-on-one coaching at a regular frequency — often twice a month, with additional sessions as needed. Clients gain the best results from a minimum 6-month engagement.

NATIONAL COACHING TEAM

We have a versatile team of coaches who are effectively matched to clients based on behavioral profiles and expertise. Our coaches are distinguished professionals with extensive business and coaching experience. Credentialed through professional coaching associations, they are trained in scientifically proven unconscious mind methodology and practices.

"Velocity Leadership Consulting coaches listen. They care and they have professional experience from the employee, employer and client perspective. This insight is invaluable! I have a coach to give me support, push me through seemingly impossible challenges and encourage me to take steps I would never have thought possible on my own. Don't be afraid, get a coach and get on with the career (and life) you want."

—K. Morrow

"Before Velocity Leadership Consulting coaching, I was in a constant state of hopelessness and confusion. I'd lost sight of my dreams and identity, and allowed 'struggle' to be my focus, every day. My coach helped me develop a very successful plan to prioritize my passions and have maximum productivity in my career. The greatest feeling of all is that I don't have fear or guilt about living the life that makes ME feel the greatest. I've had higher and longer-lasting results than ever before."

—Carrie R.

"What a great coaching experience! I've spent this weekend much more relaxed and not stressed about other people's actions or inactions. It is quite strange to feel so different from such a simple (but obviously complex) exercise. I am much more relaxed about work challenges."
